Water Sale of FRESHET SHOES

Now is the time when you men and boys can save a dollar on shoes and get just as good wear as though the shoes had never been wet. We got caught by the overflow of Potash brook and you get the advantage of our loss. A quantity of men's black and tan leather oxfords that should retail for $4.00 go in this sale for $3.00. These are all new goods just bought and only opened up a day or two before the freshet.

Boys' Oxfords in tan, patent and gun metal that are worth $3.00 are going in this sale for $2.00. Youth's Shoes and Oxfords, regular $2.00 quality, we have marked $1.55, and $1.50 quality at $1.25.

We also got caught with a few pairs of Boys' Tennis Oxfords or Sneakers in the basement which we will sell at 10 per cent discount; not damaged in the least and a big saving to the boys who want sneakers soon.

We will also take advantage of this opportunity to add a few other bargains such as $3.50 Men's Oxfords in patent, gun metal and tan leathers for $2.00 and Shoes that always retail for $3.50 to $4.00 at $2.00.

STORIES OF O. HENRY.

A Promised Visit and the Drill Way It Was Evaded.

Wherever one goes one hears a story of the late O. Henry, the writer. Every one in magazine circles hereabouts knew him, and most had had a personal experience or two. Somehow every story illuminates the man. They are not merely humorous tales, but through them one catches a glimpse of his characteristics, his broad humanity or his generosity or his love of the city. Robert H. Davis, the magazine man, related that on one occasion he went a-visiting with O. Henry down on Long Island.

"It was a very hot day," said Davis. "We had climbed an everlasting hill. Another greater hill stretched before us. The sun was a disk of brass, and dust and heat and clicking insects rose from the ground. We sat on a fence to rest."

"Is there anything else I can show you?" I asked him.

"Yes," said Henry, wiping his forehead. "Show me a return ticket to New York."

"On one occasion he had promised to spend the week end with Gilman Hall at his country place in Jersey. Mr. Hall had invited him several times. When Henry finally accepted Hall gave him the most precise directions.

"Take a 3 o'clock train on Friday afternoon," said Mr. Hall, "and I will meet you with the carryall at the station."

"At 11 o'clock on Friday morning Mr. Hall was called to the telephone in his country home. The boy at the railroad station droningly informed him that there was a telegram for him, signed 'O. Henry'."

"Read it," commanded Mr. Hall, and the boy's sleepy voice buzzed over the wire.

"New York," he read. "Twenty-third street substation. Western Union Telegraph company, 10:30 a. m. Addressed, Gilman Hall, Far Out, N. J. Dear Hall—I have missed the 3 o'clock train. Signed, O. Henry."

"Neither Henry nor Hall ever referred to the telegram or the evaded visit in subsequent talks."—New York Letter to Cincinnati Times-Star.

The Hamburg Stock Exchange.
The public rooms of the Hamburg bourse, subject to very mild rules conducive to good order, are open to all, with very few exceptions. Their use is definitely forbidden "to all female persons," to individuals who have been deprived of their civic rights, who are under some form of judicial restraint, who have been adjudged guilty of fraudulent bankruptcy, persons adjudged to be in simple bankruptcy, those unable to meet their obligations and such as are forbidden the use of the bourse through the decision of the court of honor.

Disguised His Vocation.
"What is your occupation?" asked the good woman as she handed out the fourth roast beef sandwich.
"I am an ex-pounder, madam. My delivery has become impaired and I find it very difficult to get a bout," answered the weary traveler.

Thereupon the one time pugilist took his leave and the good woman murmured, "Poor fellow!"—Judge.

Sanborn, White River Junction.

There was a little bit of excitement on the quiet and peaceful street, Highland avenue, a few nights ago when a concealed person shot and killed one and wounded one so that it died. The hen that was wounded won first prize at all the hen shows last fall and winter, and her owner had refused $25 for her, as she was supposed to be the best Rhode Island hen in the state. The hens got out of their enclosure and wandered off the premises. At the time the hens were shot some small children were sitting on the grass behind some bushes, not more than two rods from where the hens were shot and in direct line from where the shots came.

Fields and Hanson, the old-time musical act which is appearing at the Pavilion the first half of the week, presents the funniest black-face act seen in this city for nearly half an hour last night (the usual vaudeville performers consider that they have done well if they can entertain an audience for from ten to fifteen minutes). The act presented by Fields and Hanson is a succession of comedy surprises from start to finish, with not a dull moment throughout. To say that they pleased would be putting it mildly, as nothing but expressions of praise are heard for them on all sides. Frank Phipps in singing, dancing and jokes also pleased. The pictures were good.
